

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Conference gratefully acknowledges the assistance of Martha K. Dillow, North Central Forest Experiment Station, Carbondale, Illinois, and the printing staff of the Northeastern Area, State and Private Forestry, Upper Darby, Pennsylvania, for preparing these proceedings.

-- Calvin F. Bey, Editor

THE COVER PHOTO . . .

The "Urban Elm" is a hybrid between Siberian elm and a Dutch selection. It is highly resistant to Dutch elm disease and was officially released in the fall of 1974.